BETHEL LIBRARY

New books received:

The Hurricane Years by Cameron Hawley. A welcome return to the bedrock relationships of real people facing real problems in a real world. As such, it is Cameron Hawley's best and most significant book.

The Salzburg Connection by Helen MacInnes. As always, the factual basis of this novel is firmly set in historical evidence; as always, the theme is meaningful and real; and, as always, the narrative is irresistible. Here then, is a whirlwind adventure for the hundreds of thousands who eagerly await Helen MacInnes' new novel.

Sam Houston by Noel Gerson. In Sam Houston, Noel Gerson has fashioned a powerful adventure story from the career of the famous Texan whose feats were often as gigantic as the state he wrenched away from Mexico. Sam Houston is a vivid portrait of a great American whose life was indeed, as John F. Kennedy observed, a "profile in courage."

I Wish I'd Said That by Art Linkletter. Art Linkletter tells his favorite ad-libs of all time. Of Diamonds and Diplomacy Little Baldwin. An autobiography of a happy life as social secretary for Ambassador and Mrs. David Bruce, for Ambassador Clare Booth Luce, and for Jacqueline Kennedy. This is a book which is great fun to read and one which will stimulate any young person who wants a successful career.

The Wind Blows Free by Vian Smith. With an English setting, a beautifully written re-creation of a place, a way of life, of men and women who were vulnerable yet staunch. The Wind Blows Free brings a rare and pertinent affirmation of the human spirit's enduring need of freedom and self-respect.

Young people: The House of the Nightmare and Other Eerie Tales chosen

STATE OF MAINE
To all persons interested in either of the Estates hereinafter named:

SAFETY CHAIRMAN PRAISESROAD DEATH REDUCTION

Chairman of the Maine Highway Safety Committee, Jack S. Atwood, has stated that "Maine's effort in reducing traffic deaths and accidents this year has been remarkable. At the end of six months, the State was tied for second place in percentage reduction of highway deaths, minus sixteen percent. Preliminary figures for the months of July, August and September show that we are still one of the leaders in the nation and I believe when the final figures are in for the country, we shall be close to leading the entire nation. Considering the great increase in tourist travel, this is even more remarkable.

Chairman Atwood advised "these results are due to the wonderful efforts of many organizations and State Departments. Governor Curtis spearheaded the attack over a year ago when he called on everyone to 'step up' their efforts. The Highway Commission and its chairman have done exceptional work on correcting and rebuilding high accident locations. The State Police Chief has added more patrols to our highways and initiated new methods of cutting down the speeders and violators. The Secretary of State, through an intensive campaign of driver improvement, has contributed to the results. The Maine Highway Safety Committee's Educational Programs, particularly with the defensive driving courses, have played their part. The Department of Education's increase in the number of students taking drivers training courses has certainly been a factor."

He also emphasized that "much credit should go to the Maine motorists and many organizations who have pledged support; also, praise should go to the many men and women who must drive to and from work daily. Mr. Atwood states that spreading this sort of news in the various news-

WHY ENROLL?

If you are registered to vote but not enrolled in either political Party, perhaps you have been misinformed about the true facts.

Enrolling in a political Party still allows you to vote as you please in the General Elections.

Regardless of your employment—even by the government—you can enroll in the Party of your choice.

Now, let's look at the advantages of being enrolled:

1. Only enrolled voters have a say in the selection of candidates in the Primary Election. Many times, in a predominantly one-Party community or county, the Primary winner in that Party is the automatic winner in the General Election.

2. The unenrolled voters, instead of being "Independent," are in fact the most dependent of all because they depend on the enrolled voters to do all the nominating of candidates for them.

3. Enrolled voters receive more information about the candidates and the elections. They are therefore better informed and can exercise their franchise more intelligently at the polls.

4. Enrolled voters are more likely to have the opportunity to contribute to party. Unlike Soviet Russia where the Government finances elections, such as they are, we Americans have the privilege of sharing the costs of electing our office holders.

5. Enrolled voters may attend Party Caucuses and Conventions, day School convenes at the same hour for regular and visiting pupils.

Among related passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by the denomination's Founder, Mary Baker Eddy, is the following: "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life, It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter,—certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God."

"One Element of Christian Healing," is the title of the next program in the Bible Speaks to You" series.

IN AND ABOUT BETHEL BRYANT POND

Mrs. John Currier called at the home of Mrs. Marie Gunther one day this week.

Scott Stebbins was among the lucky ones attending the Waterford Fair this year when he caught a greased pig at the "Pig Scramble".

Mrs. Donald Fifield was a dinner guest of Mrs. John Frankenreiter, Paradise Road, on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Fifield lived at the Earth Station at Andover. They will be moving to Andover in two weeks.

At the request of residents in the respective areas, two streets have been named by the Bethel Board of Selectmen. The street leading west off Bridge Street has been designated as Riverside Lane; and the connecting road between the Middle Intervale Road and Route 26 (old Route 26), will be known as Sunset Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Messinger of Santa Clara, Calif., have been guests of Mrs. Messinger's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Evans Wilson of Pownal. Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Messinger and Rev. and Mrs. Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gibbs. Miss Minnie Wilson was also a guest at the Laphams.

KENT'S HILL "B" TEAM

The season started late but impressively for Gould Academy prep footballers who dished out a 52-0 defeat to the Kent's Hill "B" team in Wednesday rivalry at Bethel.

At this point Gould has only two other bookings, the 19th at MCI and Oct. 26 at home with Hyde School of Bath. Box 436, Bethel.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

October 8, 1968

Dear Editor,

One of the pleasures of living in the country is the keeping of animals. The care of them can foster a sense of responsibility in their young owners. Just as parents take pleasure in watching the development of their children, children enjoy watching young animals grow and respond as they are fed, cared for, and cherished.

I'm certain that many people have been past the irrigation pond on East Bethel Road where five fat ducks thrived between a weedy flourishing garden and potato and corn fields. These ducks had been watched by their owner since they were in eggs on the other side of the river. They arrived as ducklings who seemed to grow two inches a day. They were kept in a wire enclosure, still standing in the pond, to protect them from muskrats when they were young. When they were big enough to protect themselves from nature's natural varmints, they had the run of the pond. Quacking loudly, they greeted each person in the area as a potential provider of corn or breadstuffs. Occasionally a wild duck would join them, smaller and riding high on the water, and able to fly away. These ducks had tame parents and had never learned to fly.

We arrived home on Saturday and went to feed the ducks. No conversational quacking greeted us—only two bewildered ducks with no appetite for corn and a new wariness for two-legged animals. Missing were two fat form as the building inspector shall prescribe, and shall contain a description of the proposed new altered or relocated building, or the repairs or replacement contemplated. The application shall be filed with the board of assessors and shall be available for inspection by any interested party.

B. Permit Approval. The building inspector, after proper examination of the application, shall either issue the requested permit or transmit notice of refusal within 15 days. Notice of refusal shall be in writing and shall state the reasons therefor.

C. Life of Permit. All building permits shall be void unless work thereunder is commenced within one year from the date of issuance.

D. Display of Permit. Every building permit shall be displayed in a conspicuous place on the premises, clearly visible from the principal traveled street, and shall not be removed until all work covered by the permit has been approved.

E. Fees. There shall be no fees.

F. Certificate of Occupancy. No building shall be occupied after its construction, alteration, repair or relocation until a certificate of occupancy issues from the building inspector. The building inspector shall issue said certificate after proper examination shows that all work was performed in compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

Note: This assures the homeowner that he is getting what he paid for. After construction or repair is complete, the building may not be occupied unless all of the provisions of this ordinance have been fulfilled.

G. Size of Lot. No building shall be constructed upon or removed to a lot with an area of less than 10,000 square feet, with a frontage width facing any street of not less than 100 feet, and a depth of not less than 100 feet, except for lots designated as lot 10 on the town tax map. If an existing building burns, it may be replaced even though the lot may measure less than 10,000 square feet.

H. Set-Back. No building shall be erected on a lot unless it shall be set back from right of way of the street line at least 25 feet.

I. Side Yard Width. No dwelling shall be set less than 20 feet from any adjoining lot line. No buildings other than dwellings shall be set less than 10 feet from the adjoining lot line.

J. Driveways. Each lot shall be provided with a driveway of not less than 10 feet in width.

K. Off-Street Parking. Off-street parking shall be provided in the amount of 300 square feet per dwelling unit. This may be accomplished by driveway space, garage space, or parking lot space, or any combination of the three.

L. Side Yard Width. No dwelling shall be set less than 20 feet from any adjoining lot line. No buildings other than dwellings shall be set less than 10 feet from the adjoining lot line.

M. Foundation. Foundation walls shall rest on rigid masonry or metal footings which extend at least six inches above dirt floors or 2 inches above concrete floors.

N. Chimneys. All wooden beams and joists shall be trimmed away from flues and chimneys so that there shall be not less than two inches from the outside face of the chimney.

O. Wood Joists. Each joist shall be anchored with a nail or screw at each end.

P. Electric Motors. All electric motors shall be mounted on a base of at least one-half inch in diameter embedded at least six inches in the foundation walls.

Q. Driveway. Each lot shall be provided with a driveway of not less than 10 feet in width.

R. Off-Street Parking. Off-street parking shall be provided in the amount of 300 square feet per dwelling unit. This may be accomplished by driveway space, garage space, or parking lot space, or any combination of the three.

S. Side Yard Width. No dwelling shall be set less than 20 feet from any adjoining lot line. No buildings other than dwellings shall be set less than 10 feet from the adjoining lot line.

do pennies make a difference in your food bill?

You bet they do.
And we should know.
We built our business by saving pennies for generations of folks like you.

For instance, take our policy on multiple-priced items.

If an item is priced 3 for 25¢, the price for one is obviously 9¢.

But what happens if you want two?

Do you pay 2 times 9¢ or 18¢?

Not at A&P.

We sell it at 2 for 17¢.

That's the fair way—the A&P way.

Yes, in the food business...

in food budgeting, pennies make a difference.

We watch them for you and for us.

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

Arriving home late afternoon the Autumn winds sighed through the mountains and breezed from the Northwest down the pond. There toward the far shore an unusual "something" caught my eye. After watching a moment I discovered the Blue Heron. Like a philosopher he stood on his long legs, his neck in a graceful S curve, motionless and seemingly in deep thought.

However his mind was alert to the fish and other food that passed by, I'm sure. He seems to be always alone so must lead a rather solitary life. His motion was so slow I could scarcely tell when he did move. But he was interesting to watch and a decorative figure especially in a setting so lovely.

The horizon was tinged with magical glow nearing the rainbow colors as only the western sky knows in perfection.

The Autumn foliage rich now in its dress of splendor completed the picture.

I thought of the other birds no longer in the fields and branches with their music for this is a time of restlessness for them. Weeks ago the first migrants started on their journey southward, the more delicate insect eaters going first. The decrease in food supply sends them southward.

I presume if one were to lie quietly outside on an evening and just listen he would hear the chirps and twitters of these gathered birds coming down through the darkness as they take their southward way. Then if these notes touched the ear he would realize what a wonderful power sound has upon memory. He'd live again the summer with the glory of the Bluebird, the sweetness of the Bobolink, the dipping and chirp of the swallow, the call of the oriole and his majesty the Robin. If the darkness could immediately turn to day it would be revealed?

We can only guess — we know not Migration — one of the great mysteries of the world of nature.

I see my way as birds their trackless way,

I shall arrive what time, what circuit first,

I ask not; but unless God send his hall

Of blinding fireballs, sleet, or stifling snow,

In some time, his good time,

I shall arrive;

He guides me and the bird.

In his good time!

(Robert Browning)

CHAPMAN - CUMMINGS

Miss Mildred Cummings, Bethel, became the bride of Howard Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. Chapman of Bethel, in an attractive wedding ceremony, which took place at the Locke Mills Union Church, Locke Mills, on Saturday, Sept. 28.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Cotton, of Casco, a cousin of the bride. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Celia Lamb of West Paris.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length bouffant style of tulle and chantilly lace. The gown had a tight bodice and bateau neckline.

The appliques were trimmed with iridescent sequins. The fingertip length veil of imported illusion fell from a small tiara.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

The maid of honor, Gail Gibbs, of Portland, cousin of the bride, wore green faille trimmed with lace in an empire style with matching lace veil; carrying a colonial bouquet of chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Debra Cummings, sister of the bride, dressed in gold faille and lace with matching veil, and Miss Sandra Smith, Bethel, in blue faille and lace with matching veil, both carrying colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums.

The best man was Alan Chapman, Bethel, brother of the groom. The ushers were Sam and Tony Chapman, Bethel, brothers of the groom.

The bride's mother was dressed in a deep pink ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore beige brocade with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds and carnations.

The reception was immediately after the ceremony at the American Legion Home, Locke Mills. Music was furnished by Basil Green's Trio.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. George Loofler of Trumbull, Conn., and Madlyn Herrick, West Paris.

Mary Ellen and Kathy Chapman, sisters of the groom, circulated the guest book.

WEST PARIS REC. BOARD ANNOUNCE SPECIAL TROPHY TO BETHEL

The West Paris Recreation Board announced this week that the special participation trophy will be presented to the town of Bethel this year. This trophy is awarded each year to the town outside of West Paris, which has the best representation at the annual soap box derby. The trophy will be displayed at some business establishment in Bethel village for 1968-69 until a few weeks before the 5th annual derby.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Cotton, of Casco, a cousin of the bride. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Celia Lamb of West Paris.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length bouffant style of tulle and chantilly lace. The gown had a tight bodice and bateau neckline.

The appliques were trimmed with iridescent sequins. The fingertip length veil of imported illusion fell from a small tiara.

The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

It will be up to the town of Bethel to defend its holding the trophy next year.

At the base of the trophy the following will read:

Awarded to the Town of Bethel for the best representation at the 1968 annual West Paris soap box derby. Those who represented Bethel are: Dwight Bailey, age 12; Osman Palmer, age 13; Kenneth Mason, age 11. In the powderpuff, Fern Bachelder, age 11; and Jeanne Bachelder, age 12.

This is the first year the trophy has been awarded but it will be a regular feature of the derby race in the future.

The bride's mother was dressed in a deep pink ensemble with black accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore beige brocade with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds and carnations.

The reception was immediately after the ceremony at the American Legion Home, Locke Mills. Music was furnished by Basil Green's Trio.
